No matter what you do in the alpaca business, it's important to be able to pick up the phone and make some new contacts.

Really - the more you entrench yourself in the Alpaca community, the more you'll learn about improving your herd's genetic makeup, fiber quality ... and the more contacts you'll have to cross-sell, cross-breed, and network for people looking for a particular blood line, etc.

Basically ... the more alpaca people you know, the easier it is to sell your alpacas. Get involved!
